Graphic Designer

(job ID: #1002-c)

Status: Contract/Freelance.

Compensation: Based on experience

ColdData, LLC is an online interactive agency dedicated to providing a full range of quality online solutions to healthcare companies. The main office is located in Calabasas, California.

Description

This position requires high level conceptualization, presentation, and implementation abilities. Working in the fast-paced environment of the Creative Services Department, this individual will work closely with our Project Management to produce highly visible web designs for existing and future websites.

Qualifications

- At least 3 years of graphic design experience, either in an advertising agency or in-house as part of a corporate design department
- Advanced conceptual skills and the ability to follow art direction and collaborate on design
- Ability to proactively create design initiatives and take design from concept to electronic artifacts
- Ability to make design decisions based on client needs and guidelines
- Strong time management skills, including meeting tight deadlines, and reacting quickly and smoothly to changes
- Practical experience with the following software programs: Macromedia Flash MX, Macromedia Freehand, Adobe Photoshop, and Adobe Illustrator
- Have the ability to work independently, following instructions and completing projects within the allotted timeframe
- Excellent written and verbal communication skills and experience communicating project status to project coordinators
- Degree in graphic design is a plus, but experience and talent are most important
- Experience in healthcare industry is a PLUS
- No H1 VISA sponsorship at this point – local hires only. All non-qualified applications are discarded immediately.
